— ESTD 1846 —
Dewar's

Dewar's 'double aged' process was pioneered back in 1881, and is by no means the easiest way to make a whisky, but we believe in exceptionally high quality. That means no shortcuts in aging; our whisky's all have age statements and a commitment to the process of double-aging, whereby the blends are "married in casks" by re-casking for a second period of aging. Join Dewar's North American Brand Ambassador and whisky expert, Gabriel Cardarella, and experience what it takes to become the world's most awarded double-aged blended Scotch whisky, have a highball, and dive into the world of innovation with Dewar's Scotch Whisky.
